

I'm not a robot

Governor Michelle Lujan Grisham has said reforming the juvenile code is a top priority this session, and now lawmakers are... In a debate that went late into the early morning hours, Lawmakers are once again attempting to strengthen the penalties for individuals who attack police officers. This It's a stunning statistic presented to state lawmakers this week. Program evaluators for the Legislative Finance Committee said... President Donald Trump cancels plans to sign a housing affordability The 30-day legislative session in Santa Fe has officially adjourned, and Journal reporters Dan Boyd and John Miller break down...