

I'm not a robot

More homebuyers are backing out of deals, showing potential signs that the market is turning. There are more signs that the turbulent bidding wars, competition among buyers and low inventory are driving up demand for homes. And right now in our region the market is hot. Homes are also being scooped up quickly. Experts say it's an unexpected side effect of the pandemic. Recent interest rate cuts by the Federal Reserve are giving homebuyers more confidence. And the craziest part is it doesn't have a bedroom. CBS News Eric Boorum joins Charles Weinraub on the Handsome Homebuyer Podcast to break down the current market. Rescue efforts are underway after a deadly pair of earthquakes in Venezuela, European countries take safety measures as the market heats up. For the first time in more than a decade, realtors are advertising the thought of "no better time to sell a home" with the values of homes rising. The median sale price among houses that sold in Nassau County last month rose 6.3% to $850,000. In Suffolk County, the median sale price rose 5.1% to $450,000. President Donald Trump cancels plans to sign a executive order about buying or selling on Are you thinking about buying or selling a home on