

I'm not a robot

Opelousas community reacts to new hate crime charges Deputies say a Black jogger was targeted because of his race. Now, Jonathan Felkel is the first person It is United Against Hate Week. Utah leaders spoke up against Here is a look and the differences between Georgia's Orangeburg County Council approved the final reading of its A bipartisan pair of Ohio lawmakers defended their bill that would make Georgia is one of four states that don't have Vigil for St. Landry parish man killed in shooting. Today, the Southern Poverty Law Center released its annual "Year in U.S. Attorney announces federal indictment of man As the suspect in the deadly shooting at a gay bar in Colorado Springs is being held on Later today, lawmakers in Lansing are expected to vote on the Michigan