

I'm not a robot

Women can have mental and physical issues if they do not face trauma and stress in their lives, according to an expert. Working on Womanhood helps girls become the person they want to be, according to Ngozi Harris, Did you know that while 48 percent of U.S. women sought mental health services in 2017, only 35 percent of