

I'm not a robot

Scattered across the hills, forests, and coal country of Explore the eerie silence of Centralia, From forgotten 1980s shopping meccas MrHousing All research, writing, and narration by the MrHousing team. Sources include FBIÂ ... Helen Wang explores the remnants of abandoned Pennsylvania settlements, from industrial boom towns and villages displaced for war efforts to communities left behind by infrastructure projects. This examination of lost history uncovers the stories behind silent streets, reclaimed landscapes, and long-buried secrets that define these forgotten places across the state. There are at least 41 documented