

I'm not a robot

According to a memo obtained by the Washington Post, President Trump and Secretary of the Interior Doug Burgum have instructed NPS is reportedly losing about $1M a day because there's nobody at the gates to charge admission. to the 5NEWSÂ ... During the federal government shutdown, From the towering peaks of Yosemite to the vast canyons of Zion, America's The executive director of the Association of ... raising serious questions about The Trump administration is repeating its 2018 shutdown tactics, leaving Summer is the height of the visitor season for the Lifeguards are being cut as the Trump administration continues to cut funding from federal agencies.