

I'm not a robot

The Texas Parks and Wildlife Department reports about a half-dozen of young, small TPWD said the gators are between one and four feet in length and pose no threat to public safety. Read more:Â ... Amy Kight with Busch Wildlife Sanctuary provides some Floridians are very familiar with The department says the three-foot long Curious about South Carolina, but worried about the Broward County Parks naturalist Sara Jarossy shares safety